

Use this service when a student:

Shows academic signs of distress.

Discloses problems with family, peers, a significant other, or a recent personal loss.

Refers to self-harm.

Isolates from peers, faculty, or staff.

Shows physical and psychological signs of distress.

Is identified by peers as potentially needing support.